NEW regulations are about to be introduced into England in July 2007, prohibiting smoking in all public places, including the workplace.

It is good practice for employers to offer their smokers a designated covered area away from non-smokers.

Nene can supply a range of external smoking shelters that will help you:

Reduce the risk of fire and the effects of passive smoking on your premises

Provide designated smoking areas away from the main factory or office entrances

Keep your smokers protected from the wind and rain
