Racking Protection

Racking Protection

Rack Deflectors

Rack deflectors are a one-time ‘insurance’ investment, costing a fraction of what you would need to spend on rack repair or replacement and alleviating expensive repairs to the floor caused by conventional floor fixed rack guards. Their fluorescent colour gives operators clear visibility of frame locations, significantly reducing the likelihood of impact. Save money and minimise downtime with our cost-effective and easy way of protecting racking uprights against costly pallet and forklift damage.

Warehouse Barrier Systems

Our heavy duty warehouse barrier system is the ideal solution for protecting specific areas of your warehouse. Our barrier system is equally as effective as other solutions available on the market for a fraction of the price. In particular, our four-sided post barrier solution represents a cost-effective way of controlling your warehouse traffic, tailor-made to suit your specific warehouse set-up.

Steel End of Rack Barriers

Some of the most common racking repairs we undertake are to the end braces and uprights, often due to damage at low level from forklifts turning. Our steel end of rack barriers protect these vulnerable areas, absorbing the impact and minimising costly repairs, thus prolonging the life of your racking and saving you money in the process. We keep an array of sizes in stock, with products available to suit single and double runs of racking.

Pallet Back Stops & Support Bars

We carry stock of pallet back stops, pallet support bars, fork entry bars and much more, all to suit your specific business requirements. Our range of products provides a cost-effective solution that prevents product migration and damage, increasing your efficiency and saving you money. Due to our extensive stock holding, we can deliver and install your chosen solution promptly.

Timber Barriers

Our timber barriers offer vital protection for vulnerable areas of racking. The major benefit of timber barriers are that once they are hit or damaged, it is both inexpensive and quick to replace the timber inserts, making them an ideal solution to reduce your costs.

Steel Upright Protection

If you are looking for long-lasting effective protection, our steel upright protectors are the ideal solution. We provide corner guards, wrap-around guards and column guards, amongst other solutions, allowing you to choose the right fit for you. Our guards are securely bolted to the floor in front of your racking, providing optimum protection for your racking investment.
